

Predicts 8 to 15 Million Acres Under Soil Bank

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department estimated today that from 8 to 15 million acres of land normally planted to major surplus crops will be placed under the new soil bank program this year.

For taking the land out of production, the farmers will get payments ranging from $4 to $360 an acre under the program, which is designed to eliminate surpluses of cotton, wheat, corn, peanuts and tobacco.

The soil bank program, which was authorized by a new farm measure enacted late last month, offers up to $1,200,000,000 a year through 1959 for reducing plantings of surplus crops and for applying conservation practices to idled acres.

This year's anticipated participation will fall far short of the annual goals set by President Eisenhower when he recommended a program to Congress last January. Lateness in getting the program set up will hold down the acreage put under the program.

The administration goals include the diversion of between .20 and 25 million acres a year from the major crops and transfer of an additional 25 million acres of less productive land to permanent grass, trees and other noncommercial crop uses.

Most of the soil bank payments will be less than $50 an acre. Only in the case of tobacco, an intensive crop, will they run in excess of $100. The top rate will be $360 for cigar-binder type of tobacco grown principally in New England states. Officials estimate that less than 5,000 acres will be diverted from this type.

The minimum payment of $4 an acre will be made on land allotted for planting to winter wheat last fall but which was not sown because of drought or other adverse conditions. Officials estimate that several million acres will be eligible for this rate.

Under regulations now in effect, payments are offered in cases where farmers do not plant their full allotments of spring wheat, cotton, corn, rice, peanuts and tobacco, or on land where adverse conditions or where crops are plowed under, clipped or mowed so as to prevent them from maturing for possible harvest.

Predicts Okay to Funds for Big Bombers

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON — Two Democratic senators expressed confidence today the Senate will vote an extra $1,100,000,000 for long-range bombers and other Air Force spending.

The Senate Appropriations Committee voted 13-12 yesterday to add that amount to the funds requested by President Eisenhower for the purpose as it completed action on a defense money bill raised to almost 35 billion dollars.

Some Democrats have contended the Eisenhower administration may be letting U. S. air power fall below Russia's.

The Senate will start debating the bill Thursday, but Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said he expects no voting before next Tuesday.

Asked if the committee decision could be sustained on the floor, Sen. Chavez (D-NM), chairman of the subcommittee which handled the bill, replied "Of course it will."

Three Guilty of Cattle Stealing

GREENVILLE, Miss. — A father, son and son-in-law pleaded guilty here yesterday to stealing two blooded bulls, one worth $10,000, from a farm near here and selling them to a Jonesboro, Ark., packing house for less than $300.

The defendants were Guy Parsons, 62; his 17-year-old son, Floyd, and Alfred Watkins, 29, the son-in-law. All three already are serving penitentiary sentences on other charges in connection with a three-state cattle theft ring.

Circuit Judge Arthur Jordan added two years to the 10 the older Parsons already faces, making a total of 12 for him to serve consecutively.

The judge deferred sentencing of the son and the son-in-law.

Britain Hurls Fine on Cypriot

NICOSIA, Cyprus — Britain slapped a $112,000 fine on the Greek Cypriot population of Famagusta today.

Acting Gov. George Sinclair said the fine was for recent "terrorist activities" in the east coast city, the island's largest port with a population of about 20,000.

Sinclair rejected a plea by a number of citizens that he waive the fine if property owners agreed to forego a claim for compensation for damage allegedly done by British security forces. British troops cut down olive trees and caused other damage recently in antirebel operations.

Group Approves Increase in National Debt

WASHINGTON — The House Ways and Means Committee today approved the Eisenhower administration's request for a one-year increase of three billion dollars in the national debt limit.

This would put the temporary ceiling on government borrowing during the new fiscal year starting July 1 at 273 billion dollars, three billion less than in effect the past two years.

The statutory limit on the debt is 275 billion dollars. The Treasury cannot exceed that figure without congressional approval.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, in asking for the new temporary ceiling, said the administration expects to wind up the 1956 fiscal year on June 30 with the national debt under 273 billion dollars.

He said this would be accomplished by applying an expected budget surplus of $1,800,000,000 to debt reduction.

The committee action was unanimous after Humphrey said the new debt limit "will be a tight fit" and precludes any reduction in taxes this year.

Economic Loss in Steel Strike Costly

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — The economic loss from a strike of 248 transportation workers at U. S. Steel's giant Birmingham mills has risen to multi-million-dollar proportions.

With U. S. Steel's Tennessee Coal and Iron Division idle for more than seven weeks, the estimated loss to its 25,000 employees and suppliers approaches 40 million dollars.

Customers who now have been deprived of more than 500,000 tons of steel are laying off increasing numbers of workers because of a lack of metal. A recent survey showed that about 5,000 employees of related industries would be without work in coming weeks unless the strike is settled.

The strike already equals the 53-day-old walkout of 1952, when the mills were closed by an industrywide strike. The shutdown is sure to become the longest in recent years.

The reason is that U. S. Steel's contract with the United Steelworkers of America expires June 30. There would be little point in beginning the expensive process of bringing TCI's furnaces and mills to full operation unless it appears certain that U. S. Steel and the USW will agree on a new contract.

Few Interesting Notes Such as: Places in Europe a Bride Must Pass a Cooking Test

NEW YORK — Things a Columbian might never know if he didn't read his mail:

That in some European countries a bride by law must pass a cooking test before she can get married.

That it was Mark Twain who said, "It usually takes me three weeks to prepare a good impromptu speech."

That one chain of supermarkets, featuring Beethoven as well as beans, is now selling long-playing classical records at 99 cents each.

Control of Anthracnose, Leaf Disease of Watermelons Should Start at Early Stages

The first application of recommended fungicide for the control of anthracnose and other leaf diseases of watermelons, cucumbers and cantaloupes is to be made when the disease is first noted.

Unless the grower is sure in identifying these diseases in their early stages, it is best to start application as soon as there is any moist, humid weather as we are now having, says County Agent Oliver L. Adams.

The fungicide material of choice to use for a dust or spray will depend on what is available but the rather new organic materials recommended are Zineb, Zeranol, and Ferbam. As an example, the Zineb is offered as Dithane Z-78 or Parzate depending on the trade name used by the manufacturer. All are used at the rate of one and one-half to two pounds of the actual fungicide per acre — but read and follow the manufacturer's label.

Insects such as aphids, stink bug and cucumber beetles in certain areas of fields. Malathion may be used to good advantage for insect control. An insecticide-fungicide dust containing 4 per cent malathion and 7 per cent Dithane Z-78 may be used for the control of the insects and diseases. Apply the dust in a uniform manner thoroughly covering all parts of the vine including the underside of the leaves. The dust is used at the rate of 15 to 40 pounds per acre depending upon amount of vines. The dust does not act as rapidly as the spray properly applied. Repeat application at weekly intervals and after every heavy rain. Apply malathion dust only to dry plants.

In using the 4 per cent malathion dust the residual tolerance should be closely watched. Malathion may be used within one week of harvest on most plants but on the edible parts of plants use not later than two weeks of harvest. Four per cent malathion dust is excellent for blister beetle control. Circle the swarm and work toward the center in dusting will prove a dust saver.

See your county agent if you have questions. Action must be taken promptly if anthracnose and other leaf diseases are to be effectively controlled. There is no known practical assistance in the control of well-established plant disease of this type.

PSC Okays Gas Line Construction

LITTLE ROCK — Proposed construction of natural gas transmission and distribution lines as a joint enterprise of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. and five Yell County towns was approved yesterday by the Arkansas Public Service Commission.

Danville, Havana, Ola, Pal-inview and Belleville will build distribution systems to serve residents in their areas and will join with Arkansas Louisiana to build a transmission system.

The distribution systems, financed by revenue bonds, will be leased, with an option to purchase, to Arkansas Louisiana for 30 years.

The plan is similar to ones which have been approved for other Arkansas areas seeking natural gas.

FAO Would Stabilize Rice Trade

ROME — Regular international consultation is necessary to reduce instabilities in world rice trade, a study group of the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization reported today.

A consultative subcommittee of the FAO's major committee on commodity problems reported: "It was agreed that it would be most undesirable if measures to reduce instability had the effect of freezing present levels of prices and present patterns of trade."

"They should aim," the committee said, "at reducing the amplitude of temporary fluctuations, but above all they should aim at easing adjustments to long-term changes in the conditions of supply and demand."

Egypt May Get Money for Dam From Russia

CAIRO, Egypt — A source close to Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser said today the Soviet Union has offered to lend Egypt $1,200,000,000 to finance almost entirely the Aswan Dam.

The source said Nasser will not accept the offer "at present," pending a careful study.

The loan offer was reported made by Soviet Foreign Minister Shepilov during talks with Nasser over the weekend. Shepilov is here to attend Egypt's three-day celebration of British evacuation of the Suez Canal Zone.

Britain and the United States have offered to give Egypt 70 million dollars to get the big dam on the Nile started, and later to lend 80 to 130 millions as work progresses. Tied in with this Western offer is the promise of a World Bank loan of 200 to 250 million dollars. Egypt would provide 700 millions worth of labor and local material.

Nasser has neither accepted nor rejected the Western offer.

The dam, which would create the world's largest artificial reservoir, would add 1,300,000 acres to Egypt's farm lands and irrigate 700,000 more acres the year around instead of only occasionally.

Nasser plans a vast industrial expansion with power the dam could produce.

Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov told Egyptians that his government is their reliable friend. Soviet efforts to improve relations with the West will not be at the expense of good relations between the Russians and Arab countries, he said.

Shepilov hinted broadly at an offer of economic aid, pictured the Soviet Union as the natural ally of dependent and newly independent peoples and declared his government looks for no sources of enrichment abroad.

Only Shepilov's silence on their conflict with Israel disappointed Egyptians in his first major policy speech since the succession of V. M. Molotov June 1.

The Red foreign minister is on the first stop of a swing around the eastern Mediterranean. He is the highest ranking foreigner at Egypt's three-day celebration of its National Day and the British evacuation of the Suez Canal zone.

Figures Demos Will Agree to Aid Figure

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) predicted today that a majority of the Senate's Democrats will support at least $2,400,000,000 for foreign military assistance "when the chips are down."

That figure would be 400 million more than the two billions voted by the House, but 200 million below that voted by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Humphrey is a member of the committee, which voted 13-2 yesterday to recommend a $4,502,000,000 foreign aid bill. The figure is $703,000,000 more than the House allowed for military and economic assistance.

While Chairman George (D-Cal.) worked on a formal report to the Senate, Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (Tex.) said debate on the foreign aid bill would be put off until next week while the Senate takes up the big Defense Department appropriations bill.

As it now stands, the measure carries $2,000,000,000 in military assistance for countries abroad, including authorizations previously made, against the three billions sought by President Eisenhower and the two billions voted by the House.

Isles in Bomb Area May Be Uninhabitable

By BRUCE W. MUNN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP) — The islands of Bikini and Eniwetok may have been rendered permanently uninhabitable by the deadly fallout from United States atomic and hydrogen weapons tests, a United Nations report indicated today.

The report said inhabitants of the two atolls in the Marshall Islands possibly may never return to their ancestral home islands, scene of the American nuclear weapons tests.

It did not say why the natives might not ever return but left the inference the islands were so radioactive from the nuclear explosions as to be forever uninhabitable.

The report was made by a U.N. mission which visited the Pacific trust territory administered by the United States. It was submitted today for discussion in the trusteeship council.

While Chairman George (D-Cal.) worked on a formal report to the Senate, Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (Tex.) said debate on the foreign aid bill would be put off until next week while the Senate takes up the big Defense Department appropriations bill.

Estate Contest Is Settled

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — A contest over the 1½-million-dollar estate of cartoonist George McManus has ended in compromise.

Emil Zekely, a long-time associate of McManus, the creator of "Mugs," and Mrs. Zekely and two children will receive $65,000. This amount is to be paid in installments after the deaths of the cartoonist's widow, Florence, his brother Leo, 80, and Leo's wife, Lillian, 78.

These provisions in McManus' 1954 will were agreed on in a stipulation after which the will was admitted to probate. Zekely had claimed a larger sum under a 1953 will. McManus died in October 1954.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to Dr. Dildy, the nurses and funeral directors of the Latimer Funeral Home for the kindness and love shown us during the sickness and death of our father, T. F. Ball. May the grace of God be with you all.

The Weather

OKLAHOMA — Fair to partly cloudy and continued warm and humid this afternoon, tonight and Wednesday; isolated thundershowers panhandle; low tonight 70-75; high Wednesday in 90s.

LOUISIANA: Cloudy to partly cloudy this afternoon, tonight and Wednesday with scattered afternoon thundershowers.

It says what no man can say about himself—and says it so eloquently. For example, Lincoln says he's a man of discriminating tastes—a man who prefers the simple unpretentious beauty of the only completely new fine car. It says he's a man who likes action—the quick, sure action of Lincoln's great power combination—new 285-hp V-8 engine and Turbo-Drive, smoothest, most versatile of all automatic transmissions. Finally, driving a Lincoln marks him as a man who enjoys success. If you haven't driven this most popular of all Lincolns, do so soon—for this is unmistakably the finest in the fine car field.

honor wore a white torso dress with blue accessories. She carried a nosegay of blue flowers. Thomas Williams was Mr. Fuller's best man. W. C. Bruner, Jr., and Gary Rateliff ushered.

Mrs. Sprague, Mother of the bride was attired in a pink ensemble with white accessories and a white corsage was pinned at her shoulder. Mrs. Fuller, Mother of the groom, was attired in a navy blue ensemble and wore a pink corsage.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home at Grand St., Texarkana, Ark.

50th Wedding Anniversary
Celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Strickland
Mr. and Mrs. J. Wheeler Strickland celebrated their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary with an open house at the Barlow Hotel from 3 to 5 p. m. Sunday June 17.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Strickland was their son, Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Strickland, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. LoCaste, brother of Mrs. Strickland and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McCannies, sister of Mr. Strickland.

Mrs. Strickland chose for this honored occasion an afternoon dress of dusty pink lace with rhinestone trim, and pinned a white purple throat orchid at her shoulder. Mrs. LoCaste wore a beige lace dress trimmed with rhinestones, and Mrs. Jack W. Strickland wore navy sheer with white trim. Mrs. McCannies chose a gray frock with blue nylon and rhinestone trim. Each pinned a yellow carnation corsage at their shoulder.

Mrs. T. S. McDavitt Mrs. George Hosmer and Mrs. A. K. Holloway introduced the guests to the receiving line. The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth over yellow satin. Sprays of yellow rose buds and mums were at each corner of the table, and golden wedding bells were placed at either end. In the center of the table was a three tiered crystal container of yellow rosebuds. Punch, party cakes, nuts and mints carrying out the color scheme of gold and white were served.

Assisting and greeting guests were, Mrs. Roy Anderson, Mrs. Thompson Evans, Jr., Mrs. Carter Johnson, Mrs. Ralph Routon, Mrs. Cecil Weaver, Mrs. J. M. Houston, Mrs. Frank Trimble, Mrs. Sid McMath, Mrs. J. C. McCabe, Mrs. Brents McPherson, Mrs. Mary Duncan, Mrs. J. W. Turner, Mrs. Gene Smith, Mrs. Brooks Collins and Mrs. Early Foster.

In charge of registering the guests was Miss Norma Nell Taylor. Members of the house party wore yellow carnation corsages. Yellow carnations, gladioli, shasta daisies and yellow calla lilies were placed at vantage points in the reception room and Hotel lobby.

The Stricklands were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, cards, letters and telegrams. Approximately 250 guests called during the appointed hours.

Miss Houston Exchanged Vows With
Hans Max Ruppel
At ten o'clock in the morning on Thursday June 7, Miss Ann Howard Houston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Aaron Houston, of 919 South Elm, and Hans Max Ruppel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Ruppel of New York City and Southbury, Connecticut, exchanged wedding vows in a beautiful and impressive ceremony performed by Father Burke at St. Peter's Church of Cambridge, Massachusetts. In the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends, the ceremony was double ring, both wedding rings having belonged to the maternal grandparents of the groom.

Lovely arrangements of pure white Venus carnations and specimen mums interspersed with pink snapdragons decorated the Church altar, and additional bouquets of these majestic flowers were placed at each side of the altar rail.

Miss Rose O'Brien, organist, rendered a program of traditional nuptial music.

Entering the Cathedral alone, the bride was lovely in a waist-length gown fashioned of white silk bombazine with imported Alencon lace. The closely-molded bodice was enhanced with the lace re-embroidered with seed pearls and was accented with a portrait neckline and brief cap sleeves. Upon her head she wore a petite heirloom Mantilla of complementing lace, which had been worn by the groom's maternal great grandmother. The bride carried a cascade of white roses ranging from tiny sweetheart rosebuds to full-blown specimen beauties.

Miss Ursula Maria Ruppel, sister of the groom, was the bride's maid-of-honor and only attendant. Miss Ruppel was attired in a blue imported linen design featured with a stand-away neckline. Horizontal bands of blue brocade equidistantly spaced across the sculptured bodice and the bouffant skirt adorned the frock of ballerina length. Her bouquet was a cascade of yellow roses identical to that carried by the bride.

Rudolph Chelminski of Wilton, Connecticut, served the bridegroom as best man.

Following the ceremony the bridal party and the guests left for Southbury, Connecticut, where a bridal dinner was held at the summer home of the groom's parents. The lovely summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Ruppel was beautifully decorated in the pink and silver motif. Pink roses interspersed with white peonies were placed at vantage points throughout the guest rooms. The bride's table was laid with an imported white linen cloth, and the glow of myriad lighted candles graced in silver holders shed their radiance on the pretty appointments. The wedding cake was embossed with white accentuated, with miniature delicate pink rosebuds around the edges. Atop the confection was the traditional bride and groom in an archway of bridal wreath.

Immediately after the bridal dinner the young couple left for a wedding trip to Woodbury, Connecticut, and New York City. For travel the bride chose a pink brushed cotton suit topped with a matching bolero jacket. Her white lace off-the-face hat was embellished with rhinestones to match her crescendo gloves and other white accessories. At her shoulder was pinned a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mr. Ruppel was graduated from Harvard College in Cambridge, Massachusetts, in June of this year, where he majored in physics. Mrs. Ruppel has just completed her junior year at Radcliffe College for women in Cambridge and will continue her education at George Washington University in Washington, D. C., where the couple will reside after their wedding trip. Mr. Ruppel will be employed in the Naval Research Laboratory and will also attend graduate school at the University of Maryland.

LOS ANGELES A menac-

a bomb scare yesterday.

Braves Doing Well Under New Manager

PITTSBURGH — Easy-going Fred Haney, who couldn't life the Pittsburgh Pirates out of the National League cellar in three seasons, is off to a running start as manager of the Milwaukee Braves.

His team rang up their third straight victory last night—defeating the Pirates 3-2—since he took over the managerial reins.

Prior to Sunday's double-header win over the Dodgers, Milwaukee had lost 12 of its last 17 games.
Haney hooked on with the Braves as a coach this season after being fired as the Pirate manager last year. He wound up as Milwaukee's pilot with the resignation Saturday of Charlie Grimm.

"It feels just like old times being back in Pittsburgh," Haney said. Obviously, he was referring to the surroundings and not the troubles he experienced in 1953.

He appeared confident of better things to come with the Braves.
"It won't come easy," he said.
"Nothing does. This is a very rough league we're in with eight rough ball clubs. While I like the looks of the Braves and their chances to go all the way, I look for a struggle down to the wire."

First governor of Illinois was Shadrach Bond, son of a farmer on whose farm a blockhouse was built during the War of 1812.

Union Calls Off Rebellion

WASHINGTON — The AFL-CIO Building and Construction Department today called off its rebellion against further state and local mergers of AFL and CIO union groups.

Richard Gray, Building Trades Department president, wrote all building trades unions to discontinue their two-month old policy of opposing such mergers.

Gray said AFL-CIO President George Meany has proposed a new method of solving jurisdiction troubles which "we believe will be the means of settling this controversy to the satisfaction of all concerned."

The building trades group, all former AFL unions, had complained that Industrial Union Department unions, formerly CIO, were doing construction work around manufacturing plants that should be performed by building trades members.

Meany's solution, accepted by the building trades to end their boycott of further mergers, was to name a committee to lay down a general policy once and for all on which type of work should go to each union's members.

New Subway Strike Threat

NEW YORK — A new subway strike threatened for tomorrow or Wednesday was postponed pending outcome of a June 28 court hearing.

Louis Waldman, attorney for the Motormen's Benevolent Association
(IWA) gave assurance of the postponement to state Supreme Court Justice Vincent A. Lupiano.

Everyone Is Satisfied With Swap

CHICAGO — The second-place
Chicago White Sox hate to think of where they'd be today if it weren't for pitcher Jim Wilson, whom they acquired in a six-player deal from Baltimore last month.

Wilson, who did not pitch one of his better games in beating his old teammates last night, now has a 9-3 record. Five of his victories have come since he joined the Sox.

"I'd hate to think where we'd be today if it weren't for Wilson," said Manager Marty Marion, who was lauding the deal in which he traded pitchers Connie Johnson and Mike Fierman, outfielder
Bob Nieman and third baseman George Kell for Wilson and outfielder Dave Philley.

"He's been a real life saver," said Marion, who quickly added he didn't think Baltimore got the short end of the deal.

"It's one of those deals that have helped both teams," he said.
Baltimore Manager Paul Richards concurred. In explaining the Orioles surge to the top of the second division, Richards said,
"Hitting has been the big help."

Two of Baltimore's top hitters have been Nieman and Kell.
Marion said Philley has been a tremendous help to the White Sox.
Philley has hit safely in 10 of 26 games for the Sox and has .320 average since joining the team.

Wilson wasn't too satisfied with

Redlegs in First Place; Mantle Socks Long One

By ED WILKS
Of The Associated Press

Manager Birdie Tebbets, who learned to handle pitchers as a catcher, has his Cincinnati Redlegs back in the National League. Using an off-beat pattern that makes starters out of relievers and relievers out of starters.

Birdie got the job done last night in a 7-4, 10-inning decision over the Philadelphia Phillies. He yanked Hal Jeffcoat out of the bullpen for a starting job, followed with ace reliever Buster Freeman and then wound up with unbeaten starter Brooks Lawrence, who won his eighth.

It was the second time Tebbets has used Jeffcoat, the ex-outfielder, as a starter. Both turn-abouts led to victories that pushed the Redlegs into first place. They moved back to the top last night as the Milwaukee Braves pushed the Pirates into second place, defeating them 3-2.

No other NL games were scheduled. In the American, the New York Yankees retained their 5½ game lead as Mickey Mantle sent his 15th home run rocketing out of Detroit's Briggs Stadium to beat the Tigers 7-4. Chicago's second-place White Sox defeated Baltimore 5-2 and Kansas City clipped Washington 4-3.

job this season was against the Phils June 7. He didn't last, but the Redlegs won it and took over first place. They gave up the top spot to the Pirates last Tuesday. It looked as if they were going to get the lead back in a breeze last night, racing off to a 3-0 edge that included Ray Jablonski's 12th home run. But in the end, the homer-happy Redlegs had to beat the Phils on singles. They clipped loser Harvey Haddix for four in a three-run 10th. Roy McMillan's blooper over second drove in the tie-breaker.

The Pirates fell half a game behind as the Braves scored the winning run on Dick Groat's third-inning throwing error. Warren Spahn pitched an eight-hitter for his fifth victory. Jack Sheppard's two-run homer was the only weak moment for Spahn.

The Braves, who have won three straight for Honey since he replaced Charlie Grimm Saturday night after a miserable 5-12 slump, got all their runs off Ron Kline, starting after two days' rest. Joe Adcock drove in two runs with a first-inning double.

Mantle's two-on, eighth-inning blast broke a 4-all tie. He picked a 2-1 pitch by Paul Foytack directly into the wind and off the grandstand roof (110 feet above the ground) in right field. The puke went over the 370-foot sign.

Ted Williams, as a Boston rookie in 1939, is the only other man ever to put one out of Briggs Stadium.

Mantle's homer put him 12 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record 60 pace of 1927 and handed Don Larsen his fourth victory after 6½ innings of three-hit ball in relief of Bob Turley.

Jim Wilson won his ninth of the season and fifth since moving to

Chotiner Probe Is a Possibility

WASHINGTON 18—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) says if facts warrant he will recommend a full-scale probe into the activities of Atty. Murray Chotiner.

McClellan, chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, said on a television program Chotiner will be given reasonable time to respond to "preliminary" questions regarding alleged use of influence in government for his clients.

Chotiner, a Los Angeles lawyer prominent in Republican activities, has denied trying to use influence. He also has protested the subcommittee's attentions to him as a "political fishing expedition."

Chotiner was Vice President Nixon's campaign manager in 1952 and has served as adviser for other Republican candidates.

McClellan said he had no desire to single out Chotiner. "I get no pleasure or comfort out of it," he said. "But I have a duty to perform. If the facts warrant it, I will recommend a full-scale investigation."

Mantle Picks Bad Ball to Set Record

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT — Detroit catcher Frank House kept telling Mickey Mantle he'd never hit one out of the park with the strong wind blowing in. And the slugger is reminded constantly by Manager Casey Stengel and his coaches to quit swinging at bad balls.

If the New York Yankee strong boy had paid any attention at all, he would not have propelled a "bad ball" out of Briggs Stadium yesterday.

Only one ball ever traveled out of the stadium before the 24-year-old center fielder ripped into one of Paul Foytack's fast balls and sent it into a 15-mile-an-hour wind and over the right center field stands.

Hit from the left side of the plate, the blast came with two men on base in the eighth inning and broke a 4-4 tie. The Yankees won 7-4.

In 1939, a rookie named Ted Williams cracked one over the stands down the line in right.

Mantle's blast was much more impressive, and much longer.

House said Mantle hit "a fast ball a little inside and up around his shoulders."

"It wasn't a fit pitch to hit," he added.

House chattered at Mantle every time the Yankee slugger came to bat. Said House:

"I kept telling him, 'Mickey, you ain't gonna hit one out of here today; that wind coming in from right field is just too much for you.'"

House said Mantle "muttered something, but I never could tell what it was."

Mantle failed to get a ball out of the infield in his first three trips. He rounded to first in the opening inning, struck out swinging on the third and popped to shortstop on the fifth.

The home run was his 25th of the season and put him a dozen games ahead of Babe Ruth's pace when Ruth hit a record 60 for the Yankees.

His three runs batted in gave him 62 for the season, tops in the American League. He leads the league in four other hitting departments — batting, home runs scored and hits.

DIG THAT COO-O-O-L MUSIC—Man, those crazy cats are hot stuff with that cool beat they're banging out. They're the "Dukes of Dixieland," a jazz band playing in Chicago. As temperatures soared into the 90's the Dukes gave out with some rock in Lake Michigan's roll.

FORGED FOR BATTLE—Bearing the name of the mythological god of fire, Britain's "Vulcan" jet bomber is shown for the first time as she appears in flight. Plans call for the Avro-built craft to be placed in operational squadron service by the Royal Air Force some time this year.

PARTY LINE—This photo, just released by the Defense Department, shows a new milestone in air-to-air refueling. A Navy Convair Tradewinds R3V tanker plane is successfully refueling three McDonnell Banshee F2H jet planes at once. The jets are attached to Fighter Squadron 23. Scene of the demonstration was not disclosed.

A-MAZING WORK—Looks as if these two gals had been playing a game of giant jack-straws and had gotten themselves into an awful tangle. The women behind the maze of sticks are Mary Del Canton and Jean Hemminger, workers in a bow-and-arrow factory at East McKeesport, Pa. They are fletchers and here they are busy fletching. That means putting turkey feathers on the ends of arrow shafts.

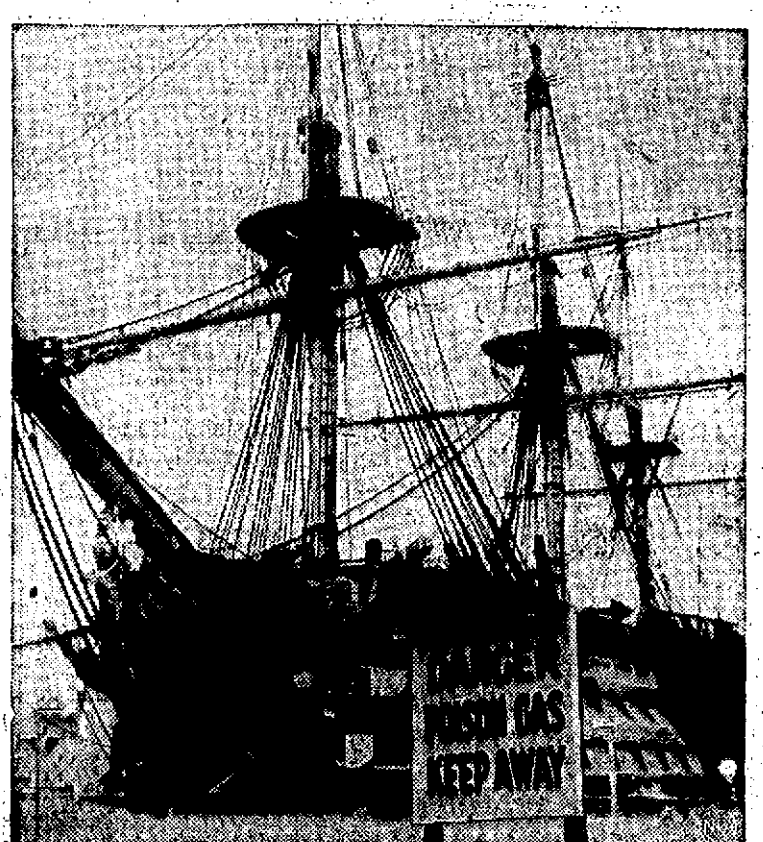

BIG LETTER DAY—The giant symbol, shown above, was formed by most of the 1,300 Kansas 4-H club boys and girls at the 32nd annual 4-H Roundup at Manhattan, Kan. Photographer Floyd J. Hanna, who made the picture, only found out exactly how many were in the picture when he made a print for each of the participants.

THEY'RE CAPITOL CANCAN DANCERS—Chorus line formed by members of the Congressional Secretaries' Club kicks up its heels on Capitol steps in preparation for the group's fourth annual variety show. This year's production is named "Revisin' and Extendin'".

BEE-WITCHED, BOTHERED, BEE-WILDERED—That's what residents of Pittsburgh, Pa., were when a swarm of bees settled on the curb of a busy downtown street. But Betty Finocch, left, and John W. Roberts don't seem to mind having the little stingers all over their hands and faces. Nobody knows where the honey-makers came from or why they came.

GAS WARFARE—A modern military weapon comes to the aid of an ancient war vessel in Portsmouth, England. Lord Nelson's historic flagship, H.M.S. Victory, is pumped full of gas and her hull sealed off to kill death-watch beetles eating at her timbers. Fumigation by methyl bromide gas is done periodically.

Violence in State Claims Lives of 14

By The Associated Press

Fourteen persons died violently in Arkansas during the week which ended Sunday midnight. The toll was in sharp contrast to 38 deaths last week.

Six persons died in traffic mishaps, three were killed in a plane crash, two drowned, one was struck by lightning, one was stabbed fatally and one died in a sawmill accident.

A 13-year-old Muldrow, Okla., boy, Raymond D. Frazier, drowned yesterday in the Arkansas River near Fort Smith. Police said he was swimming with several other boys when the accident occurred. The body was recovered shortly afterward.

Melvin Ford, 25-year-old Fordyce, Negro, was killed yesterday when he was struck by an automobile on Highway 79 about a mile north of Fordyce.

State Police Trooper, Ollie Andrews said the driver of the car, Jesse Amos, 30, of Dallas, Tex., told him Ford was standing on the highway trying to flag him down. He said he swerved to avoid hitting Ford, but the Fordyce man jumped into the car's path.

A 17-year-old Malvern youth, Glen Walker, was drowned while swimming along in Lake Ouachita near Mount Ida Saturday. Walker was visiting his grandfather at Mount Ida.

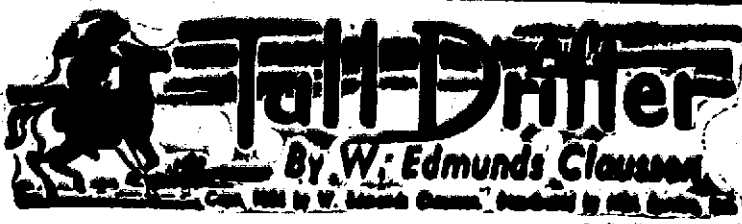

A head-on collision of two automobiles on Highway 270 about nine miles east of Hot Springs Saturday night resulted in three deaths. Sheriff Leonard Ellis of Hot Springs said the driver of the car, Leo Robbins, 32, of Malvern, and 18-year-old Harold Montgomery of Hot Springs, driver of the other car, were killed instantly.

Margaret Teague, 20, of Jones Mill, a passenger in Montgomery's car, was critically injured and died early yesterday at a Hot Springs hospital.

A 54-year-old Siloam Springs housewife, Mrs. Martha Slaven, was fatally stabbed on the street in front of her home Saturday, and Prosecutor Ted Coxsey said first degree murder charges would be filed against her husband, Ralph Slaven, 48.

Coxsey said the stabbing followed an argument over money. Slaven had requested from his wife.

Funeral services were set for Tuesday morning at Hot Springs for Jack Caruths, 44, and his 13-

CHAPTER XXVI

They were still a mile from the Rafter C when Frank sensed the worst about to happen. He lifted the black to a full gallop, leaving Swenson's bay behind. Frank caught the sounds he had been dreading. Emmett Cash was running off the balance of Jean's horses.

There came the crash of a heavy gun, followed by Emmett's taunting laugh: "Careful, Alex. We wouldn't shoot at you — I wouldn't hurt my sister's riders. Just want my horses."

He heard Alex Jacob's yell across a long, grass and brush covered flat.

He caught his first sight of Alex, then, coming up fast on a dappled gray. The kid drew the horse up short, piling off his saddle and running a few yards before throwing himself belly downward behind the bear grass. There was a dark hump like a man's body. Alex's warning rang knife-clear: "Call out — if you want a shot keep on a'comin'!"

Frank Ude yelled his name with a grim smile plucking his mouth. A slug from one of these needle guns could rip a hole in a man that was unbelievable. He never doubted the kid would have done it. Now Alex stood up, calling excitedly. Frank quit his saddle and stalked toward him. The man lying prone on the grass was Rickety.

Apparently his foot had tangled in his stirrup and his horse had dragged him over the range. The land here was reasonably free of large rocks, which was all that year-old daughter Jill, killed with Thomas G. Chambers, 27, in a plane crash near Heber Springs late Friday. Arrangements for Chambers, pilot of the plane, were not complete.

Caruth, a Hot Springs funeral home owner, his daughter and Chambers were transporting the body of Harry J. Cook, 56, from St. Louis to Hot Springs for burial when the crash occurred. Cook, a native of Little Rock, died Wednesday.

Two other traffic fatalities during the week occurred near Hope.

The sawmill accident happened near Lynn and the lightning death occurred near Jonesboro.

saved Rickety from death. "I saw him go down," Alex told him tensely. "They walloped him on the back of the head while he was trying to hold his horses. He went over the side and his foot didn't come out of his oxbow. I didn't know if I ought to shoot Rickety's bay or Emmett. I shot at Emmett."

Groans came from Rickety while Frank worked over him. He didn't think there were any broken bones, but he wouldn't know until they had him in bed with a lamp lighted.

"They got the broncs," Alex said bitterly. "Every horse but a couple in the stable. Even your chestnut and Miss Jean's bay."

Frank's chestnut had been with the others in night pasture, and now his own violent anger began to unsteady him. The chestnut was a horse he wouldn't lose for all the land in the Signals. He pressed his fist down hard against the grass.

He was only vaguely conscious of boots beside him. Then Swenson's voice. "How bad La Tour's not in Cashtown!"

"He's not to bad," Frank answered. He was surprised at the level tone of his voice. His blood was still coursing in anger through his veins. "We'll get a wagon so we can move him to headquarters."

"Wagon's here," Swenson said. "Wagon's here," Swenson said. "Wagon's here," Swenson said.

Jean and Tod Drury had arrived while he'd been struggling with his anger and the loss of his gelding. Thought of the big chestnut being punished savagely under Emmett's spurs had been too much for him. He saw Drury leap from his rig and race toward them. There was a sharp sense of tragedy in Drury's face.

Rickety never regained consciousness while they transferred him.

Jean took the reins on the return to the ranch. They lifted Rickety and moved him to his bunk. He was coming to by this time.

Abruptly Rickety lifted himself on one elbow. "Get a after them fuzzballs, you boneheads! I'm all right. Get the horses!"

"We're going, Rickety," Frank promised. "We'll fetch back your horses." His glance crept over to Jean. "Keep your eye on him till we come home."

She was standing at the foot of Rickety's bunk. She wore a grave look and her mouth seemed to go a little tighter as she spoke. "They're my horses," she said flatly. "Do you expect I'll let you ride without me?"

"When you go, Rickety demanded from the bunk, 'leave me a rifle — and the bottle of whisky.'"

Frank knew then he had been voted down, that Jean would ride with them to Emmett's. That trail would likely lead to Yates' place and a bitter fight. Outside in the yard Tod Drury and the kid already had saddled the extra horses. Frank climbed aboard his black, waiting until the others took down their cinches.

Lew Chantry plodded steadily through the draw and up to the Yates shack. He didn't really give much thought to what he would do when he reached there.

He was thinking, instead, of Jonathan Yates. A poor fellow and proud, but a man to mend his fences in his own way. He'd ridden into this country about three years ago claiming to have lost his bride in cattle stampede. He spent a lot of time in those days playing cards with Emmett.

Five minutes passed before he caught the vague outline of riders between the brush. He had already made up his mind these were Jean Cash's horses. Then Emmett's voice brought him face to face with reality.

"Stay with them, Jules. Marigny — give Jules a hand. Rest of you boys come with me."

They hit the grass and walked in a group toward the shack. One of the men said something low in warning. They all stopped short, looking at Chantry. Emmett took steady, long strides toward the door of the shack. "Ben here long, Lew" he asked. (To Be Continued)

Decision Reversed by High Courts

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A $17,500 real estate transaction in Washington County, bottled up partly by a dispute over $22.17, today was sent back to Washington Chancery Court for settlement.

Special Associate Justice Mark E. Woolsey, appointed to the court temporarily to break a 3-3 tie, wrote that Mrs. J. Hal Jones now are entitled to payment for their property at Lincoln or may foreclose against Paul Gregg.

Three associate justices dissented in the reversal of the lower court decision. They were J. Seaborn Holt, Minor Millwee and J.J. Ward. Chief Justice Lee Seamster disqualified himself. No dissenting opinion was handed down.

Jackson Says Aid Bill Only 'Patchwork'

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) today described the foreign aid program as "a clumsy patchwork." He urged a "full study" of its basic concepts.

Jackson's remarks, prepared for the Senate, came as that chamber's Foreign Relations Committee was called into closed session to try to complete action on a House-passed bill providing $38,800,000,000 in new spending authority for military and economic aid to nations outside the Soviet orbit.

The amount approved by the House is $1,100,000,000 below the Officers Solve Flurry of Burglaries

total requested by President Eisenhower. Most of the cut was in military aid funds. The Foreign Relations Committee has voted to restore 702 millions of the House cut, but Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said he didn't believe the Senate would sustain the committee's action.

Republican and Democratic leaders, after an informal nose count, said they do not believe more than 40 of the Senate's 95 members would vote now to boost materially the House total.

fourth members of a teen-age gang. Officers recovered about $1,500 worth of guns and tires yesterday when the 16-year-old Little Rock ring leader revealed a hiding place in Boyle Park.

Deputy Sheriff George Garrett, who with Little Rock detectives and Deputy Coy Merritt solved the mystery, said the boy has admitted 14 burglaries. He showed officers where he had stuffed seven pistols, four rifles and a shotgun into a sofa pillow and covered it with rocks and leaves in a ditch. Also recovered were eight tires, a battery and other items.

One gun was recovered from a Pine Bluff pawn shop, and the sheriff's office says three other pistols and an automatic rifle have been located. The weapons were taken in a break-in at 555 Boaters here early in February.

Garrett said a 16-year-old Abilene, Tex., youth was with the Little Rock ringleader; a 20-year-

HOLLYWOOD (UP) —Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, one of the most famous teams in show business, confirmed today they are breaking up after a farewell night club tour in the East.

The final "divorce" of the team came to light when Martin played golf instead of attending a party yesterday to celebrate completion of their last movie together, ironically titled "Pardners."

Court Rules on Estate Question

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mere acknowledgment of an illegitimate child is not sufficient under Arkansas law to make the illegitimate person heir to an estate, the Arkansas Supreme Court ruled today.

Upholding the decision of Jefferson Probate Court, the Supreme Court said that in such cases a will is needed.

The estate in question was that of Ollie Hudson who died without a will July 1, 1935.

Willie Cora Lee Hudson of Milwaukee, Wis., filed suit to share in his estate. The Supreme Court said it "is established by evidence" that she was the illegitimate daughter of Hudson.

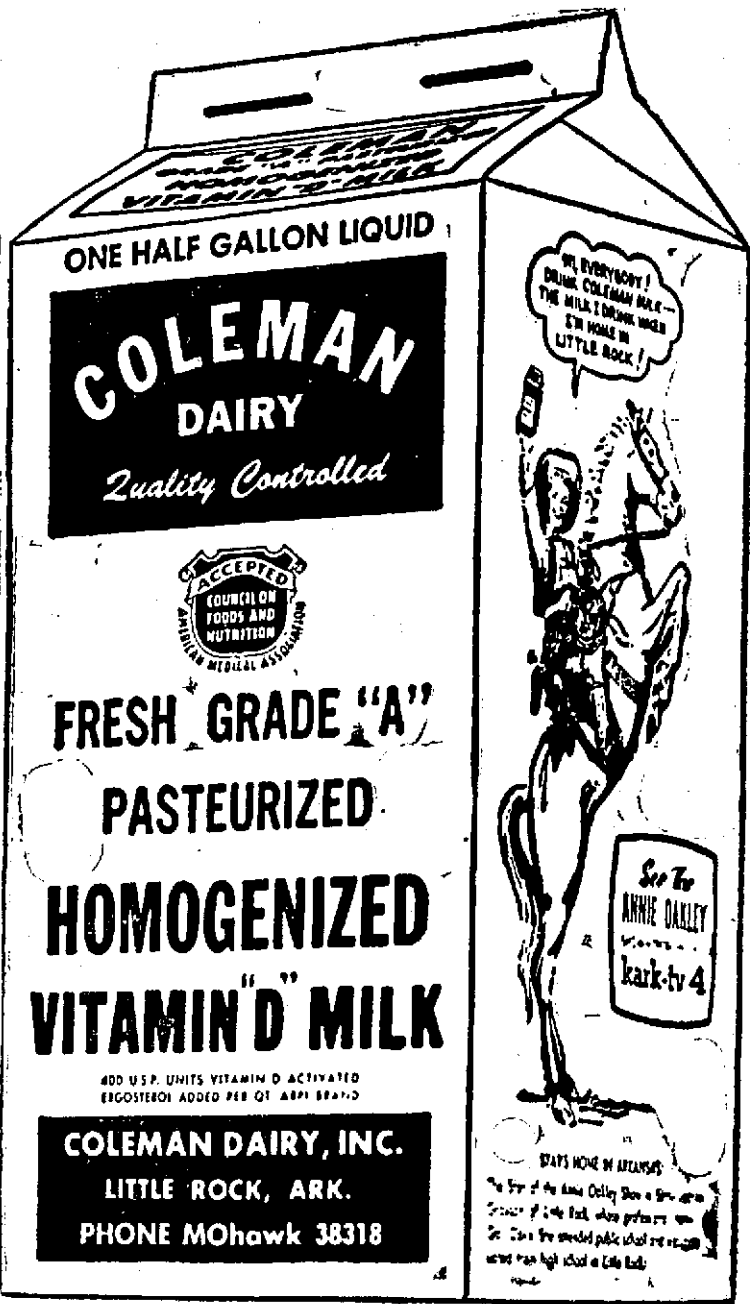

While a birth certificate showed she was Hudson's illegitimate daughter, it "showed no intent on the part of Hudson to make her his heir," the Supreme Court said. The Supreme Court opinion was written by Associate Justice Sam Robinson.
